

Harry Jeganathan is a proud Canadian of twenty-six years who has lived in the Markham-Unionville area for more than ten years. Harry has been an active member of Conservative party for more than fifteen years.

Harry believes that every Canadian should be allowed the same pride that we feel today and enjoy the same freedoms that the constitution guarantees us. He believes in the integration of a variety of nations in the Canadian societal quilt. Harry intends to continue his hard work to ensure that all Canadians see Canada with the same caliber of esteem.

Harry is the past president of the Ontario PC Markham-Unionville riding and is the current president of the Markham-Thornhill Conservative Party of Canada EDA. He has been awarded the Outstanding Riding President Award at the Progressive Conservative 2010 convention for rebuilding the Markham-Unionville riding association after the 2007 election.

A former school council chairperson, Harry has worked hard to raise funds to award merit scholarships to local University bound students. Harry has not only been involved in representing the Tamil community, but also building up inter-community cooperation. He has been recognized by the Mayor of Markham who conferred the Queen Elizabeth II Jubilee Award in 2013 in honor of his community service efforts.
